

Environment, Health and Safety Policy

We are Antamina, operators of a complex polymetallic deposit in the Peruvian Andes. Our purpose is to maximize the value of our resources in a responsible and sustainable manner, creating value for our shareholders and benefits for our collaborators, strategic partners, communities, and Peru.

We live the values of our company as our own and we are highly motivated to always be better.

With our commitment, leadership, and engagement, we are achieving extraordinary and predictable results with respect to Environment, Health and Safety throughout the entire mine life cycle, considering the long-term.

Aware of our purpose, we commit to the following:

- ▶ Provide an environment with safe and healthy working conditions, focused on the reduction and control of occupational risks; facilitating the elimination of hazards to prevent injuries; as well as promoting wellbeing, preserving the physical and emotional integrity, as well as maintaining a suitable healthy state of our collaborators and strategic partners.
- ▶ Act with responsibility in each stage of our process, taking advantage of the natural resources related to our operation, ensuring environmental care and protection, preventing, and managing risks and opportunities for the environment, considering the medium and long-term implications, strategically managed during design and operation.
- ▶ Ensure communication, engagement, and transparency in our relationships with stakeholders related to Environment, Health and Safety, and to engage their concerns and worries.
- ▶ Ensure, for each of our activities, the compliance of this policy, of our standards and procedures, of the current Peruvian legal regulations, as well as the alignment to international standards, among other commitments applicable to our performance in Environment, Health and Safety, that of which we have assumed the responsibility.
- ▶ Implement, maintain and improve mechanisms that allow for the consultation and participation of our collaborators and their representatives regarding our performance in Health and Safety.
- ▶ Periodically review the systems, plans, programs and practices in Environment, Health and Safety, through the application of best practices and new technologies in order to ensure continuous improvement and the sustainability of our performance.

VÍCTOR GOBITZ COLCHADO

President and CEO

Let's keep building together the company we all want.

Download the policy by scanning the following QR code:

